DECLARATION

Sir:

We, Leonard Harrison, Margo Honeyman, George Rudy, and Andrew Lew, declare that:

1. We are the only inventors of the subject matter described and claimed in the above-identified patent application.
2. We are among the co-authors of the publication entitled "Similar Peptides from Two  $\beta$  Cell Autoantigens, Proinsulin and Glutamic Acid Decarboxylase, Stimulate T Cells of Individuals at Risk for Insulin-Dependent Diabetes", Mol. Med. 1(6): 625-633 (1995). We are the only inventors of the subject matter disclosed in this publication.
3. In addition to ourselves, there are six other co-authors listed in the publication identified above: Natalie Stone, Peter G. Colman, Peter McNair, Vladimir Brusic, Michelle B.

French, and Brian Tait. While these six individuals are co-authors of the publication, they are not co-inventors of the subject matter described therein.

4. More specifically, the contribution of these individuals were limited to technical assistance in relation to experiments described in the publication. Their activities relating to the subject matter in the publication were conducted under our direction and control.

5. We declare further that all statements made herein of our own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment; or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code, and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issuing thereon.
